

Enterprise Learning Management System

ExcelON

We help you build your own course content

High business Value From Existing Content

Provision for off-the-shelf courses deployment and also your own

ExcelOn comes from the stables of a Brandon-Hall e-learning judge and IT solution architect who understands e-learning thoroughly.

Nalini Marthi Ph.D. dishes out an elegant solution for your e-learning needs - you don't have flashy content, no problem you don't have multimedia developers, no problem you don't have software engineers, no problem

We believe you have your OWN EXPERTISE
We believe you have your own word documents, ppts, images
We can knit an engaging course for you cost-effectively
Make it work for you to gain EXTRA MILEAGE within your own community

ExcelON provides learning management support to an Enterprise's training department through User management, Course and course delivery management, Learning tools provision and Reporting on learner's progress; an enterprise can have it as a completely automatic tool that manages its learning needs
